A lie-awake-til-three young girl.
A romantic, half crazy, but terribly lazy,
A let-me-do-the-work young girl.

SCARLET FEVER is said to have run its course at Flemingsburg.

THE wall around the new jail is to be constructed from limestone, obtained from a quarry in Glycerine Hollow.

THE new residence of Mr. A. C. Sphar, in East Maysville, when completed, will be one of the handsomest in that end of the city.

FUGATE, who shot Abe Anglen at Eastern Kentucky Junction last week, has been held for trial at Grayson without bail.

MESSRS. SULSER, PETRY & Co. advertise for sale elsewhere a lot of office furniture, clocks, stoves, etc. Read the advertisement.

MACHINISTS' soap is a new article just introduced here by Messrs. J. C. Pecor & Co. Mechanics who work in oil and grease will find it the best soap for their use.

MISS MAGGIE BATEMAN, daughter of Mr. William Bateman, of this county, died on Sunday night about ten o'clock. The burial took place at the Maysville Cemetery this morning.

A peculiar virtue in Ayer's Sarsaparilla is that while it cleanses and purges the blood from all corruptions and impurities, and thereby roots out all diseases, it builds up and invigorates the whole system, and makes one young again.

MR. J. W. JENNINGS, one of the most careful and successful planters in Bracken county, was awarded a first premium on White Burley tobacco for cutting purposes at the Germantown fair. His crop was the best in his county this season.

R. BALL, colored, was arrested at Washington, on Saturday evening, by Constable George C. Goggin, for carrying a concealed deadly weapon. He was tried before Judge Coons, on Monday, and was adjudged guilty. He was sent to jail for ten days and fined $25.

ON behalf of the Fair Company we are requested to say that the game of base ball at the grounds last Sunday was without the consent of the board, and that they were ignorant that it was to take place. We are also asked to say that it will not occur again.

THE Irononian, in noticing the death of Col. E. M. Morton, says: In the year 1846 he organized a company of skilled mechanics in Pittsburg, at the time of the memorable six months' strike, and built the first nail factory in Wheeling. His enterprise organized and built the Belmont Works there. He was one of the principal movers in building up the iron works at Benwood and Steubenville. In 1862 he and his associates purchased the Star Nail Works, of this place, now the Belfont, which has been and is a marked success. He also organized and built the Norton Iron Works at Ashland. He and his associates revolutionized the methods of doing business in this vicinity. He commenced his remarkable career as an apprenticed nailer. He was an outspoken man of positive views and large information. He will long be remembered by those who knew him.

THE following is from the Cincinnati Evening Post. Some of the heirs to the estate named formerly lived in this city: Leonard Case, a millionaire old bachelor charitable and eccentric, died in Cleveland several years ago, leaving, besides a handsome legacy for a school of applied science which bears his name, a large property for his heirs and next of kin to quarrel over in the courts. One of the suits now pending in the supreme court, the court of last resort, hinges upon the appearance of the letter "s" in the Ohio statutes. The other descendants of Leonard Case's mother claim a share in the estate. The statutes provide that under certain contingencies the estate of a deceased person shall pass to the next of kin of the blood of ancestors from whom the estate came. If the word "ancestors" is to be construed in its full force the descendants of Mrs. Case can obtain their full share. On the other hand, it is claimed that the letter "s" at the end of "ancestors" crept into the statutes through the carelessness of some printer or proof-reader. The case will be heard in the supreme court before long. The property involved is valued at $1,000,000.

Rev. J. S. Whitney as a pulpit orator is winning a large attendance. His is the eloquence that charms and burns, stirs, soothes, and wins, by turns.

He received a handsome scarf-pin from one of his fair friends at Vanceburg, but is somewhat timid about revealing its beauty, for fear his present sweetheart will disparage its worth in the estimation of others.

The temperance advocates of this town are becoming quite enthused with the rapid progress they are making in that noble cause. This town is free of all saloons, except that which is sold by the wholesale.

Don't believe that hot whisky punch cures a cold—that wine cures the gout—that love killed a man—that an old bachelor is happy—that widows dislike a second marriage—or that a lady means yes when she says no.

That much talked of wedding that was to come off in October, was postponed until November; but courtship is so sweet that they have concluded to wait until Christmas, providing the severity of the weather don't cool their ardor.

When a German determines to marry he goes to the father of the young lady and asks how much money goes with his daughter. Matrimony is almost the same with us, the only difference being that we discover the all-important fact in a more indirect way.

Mr. G. W. Howard, accompanied by his wife left Sunday for College Hill, O., a most delightful retreat for invalids mentally afflicted. Hoping under the able treatment she will receive there, she will soon be restored to her husband and interesting children.

The dudes are so extremely fastidious in regard to their clothes that they have no time to spare in polishing their manners, which are quite rusty. To effect true harmony there should be a perfect blending of tone and color to the whole, carefully giving the finishing touch to all.

Thursday afternoon the "Squire" had a wedding couple. The blooming bride was attired in a neatly fitting traveling suit, of the prevailing shade of dove color. As they entered the "Squire's" cabin the groom was somewhat abashed to meet so many spectators, greatly interfering with their rainbow of happiness. The "Squire" gallantly presented the bride with his photograph, with the request that she would find her counterpart for him.

We noticed Sunday afternoon promenading on the boulevard, two couples whose names are frequently coupled together, caused by the mischievous darts of cupid's bow. The little hazel eyed beauty, with her lithe and graceful form, was playfully toying with her admirer's heart. While the stylish brunettes was airily whirling her escort's coat in a dangerous manner over her admirer's head.
